What makes your heart smile, sing and dance? Let's make it real! You are warmly invited to join us as we dig deep to identify the ways we truly feel joy and then live it.

As you go through life, your experiences can cause positive or inhibiting emotions to be locked in your body, waiting to be released. During this workshop, ritual and intention will open you to your innate joy and wisdom, releasing the habits created in the past. This deep connection with your true nature brings out your natural and inherent joy, creating trust: a gift to all.
